ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY YEARS OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE

The
Sesquicentennial International Exposition
Philadelphia
1926

Telephones:
Lombard 1926
Broad 1926

D. C. COLLIER,
Director-General.

Sesqui-Centennial Exhibition Association
Incorporated under the Laws of Pennsylvania

INDEPENDENCE SQUARE, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

HON. W. FREELAND KENDRICK,
Mayor of Philadelphia, President.

ERNEST T. TRIGG,
Chairman, Executive Committee.

GEORGE W. B. HICKS,
Executive Secretary.

April 21, 1925

Mr. J. C. Collier,
Member Georgia State Senate,
Twenty-second District,
Barnesville, Ga.

Dear Mr. Collier:-

Your favor of the 17th instant is at hand and contents noted. I trust you will pardon my not remembering your initials; the fact that your son's and mine were the same, over-shadowed everything else. I remember meeting you very well and I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you in Philadelphia in the near future. In the mean time you may be sure that if I get to Atlanta, I will take great pleasure in looking you up.

I have written John J. Collier asking him to call at Headquarters the next time he is in the vicinity.

With kind personal regards, I am

Sincerely,

DCC.GWM

Director General

The Sesqui-Centennial Philadelphia 1776 1926 150 Years of American Independence